Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Cloud Infrastructure / DevOps Contractor – Fleet Connectivity role at Corvale Mobility. As a Senior Platform Engineer and technical lead for a platform team, I would bring platform leadership and reliability experience to a team shaping the infrastructure connecting trains with backend services.

In my current role, I lead technical work for the platform team and have mentored three backend engineers into SRE roles. That experience is relevant to Corvale's need for technical leadership and support for backend developers building services that are easier to monitor and operate.

I also use the Backstage catalog and evaluated Istio and Linkerd in 2023 for potential platform adoption, although neither was adopted. In 2024, I spoke at a UK DevOps meetup on "SLOs that product managers care about," communicating reliability concepts to a product-focused audience.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my platform and reliability experience could contribute to Corvale's fleet connectivity work. Thank you for your consideration.

Kind regards,
Nadia
